Activity Overview and Record:

Engaging their senses, the children appreciated various flowers, learning their names and structures. By admiring different floral arrangements and potted plants, they discovered that flowers not only offer fragrance but also beautify their surroundings. This activity fostered an attitude of caring for plants in the children. During the visit, the children listened attentively to the teacher's introduction and keenly observed the flower show's theme flower, the "Cosmos." They used cameras to capture the flowers' colors and eagerly asked the teacher for their names. Furthermore, most children expressed a desire to explore the "Yau Tsim Mong" district, their local community. This enthusiasm clearly demonstrated both their interest in plants and a strong sense of belonging to their neighborhood.
